Headline:
Turning cloudy overnight with coastal rain. Sunshine and showers Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Turning cloudier overnight, as thicker cloud moves in. Patchy rain will affect western and southern coastal areas, but much of the country will likely stay dry. A few fog patches may form under the clearer skies in the east. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Saturday:
A cloudy but dry start for many, though outbreaks of rain continue to affect the far west. Sunny spells and some showers developing in the afternoon, these heavy at times. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Wet and cloudy on Sunday, with some organised heavy showers. Mostly dry with long spells of sunshine on Monday. Dry but increasing cloud and windy on Tuesday.
